

Privacy Policy

The privacy policy discloses Clark Commercial Brokerage, LLC's privacy practices. This policy applies to information collected by the website. We only have access to information that you voluntarily share with us by email or some other type of direct contact from you. Your information will not be sold to anyone. We will respond to the information you provide; in regards, to the reason you contacted us. Your information will not be sold to third parties, other than as necessary to fulfill your loan request. We may contact you by email or telephone in the future to introduce any new products, or services. You may opt out of any future contact by us at any time. Contact us by email or by the toll free phone number provided on our website.

Precautions are put in place to protect your information. Your information is protected online and offline. Our computers which store personal information are kept in a secure environment. The privacy policy may change in the future, and any updates to the policy may be found on this page. If you should have any questions or concerns about our privacy policy, please contact us at (844) 552-5626 or by email at info@capitalformybiz.com